

Senior Consultant m/f/d

Energy Markets

These are your future tasks:

- A broad and challenging field of activity in which you can contribute your expertise and creative ideas.
- Working on issues and key topics that are highly relevant to the strategic orientation of our clients.
- Development and implementation of solutions for the challenges of the energy system transition:
 - Development of energy market design
 - Development of new business models in the energy market and network industry
 - Supporting clients in their strategic positioning

That is what we offer:

- Challenging projects, both in terms of content and technical orientation as well as the complexity and sensitivity of the topics.
- A great deal of personal freedom, which in turn requires a high degree of personal initiative on your part.
- The opportunity to cooperate and network with executives in the German and European energy industry.
- Cooperation in a highly motivated and qualified multidisciplinary team.

That is what we expect of you:

- Experience in the energy industry or energy management consulting
- Expertise in market design of electricity and gas markets and in price mechanisms for competitive or regulated products
- Excellent degree
- Excellent analytical, conceptual and communication skills
- High motivation and commitment.
